BOSTOCK LEAVES. Show Held Up and Made to Pay Before Leaving for Pine Beach.

The Bostock Animal Show left for Pine Beach at an early hour last night, despite the fact that Manager Schuler stated Sunday night that he had received a telegram early Sunday morning from Mr. Bostock ordering him to hold the show here.

The Bostock aggregation was balked in an attempt to leave at an early hour Sunday morning because it was believed they were being tricked out of town without having cleared up all their accounts. All the gates were barred, and despite the exhortations of the Bostock people they were kept locked until yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when the gates were thrown open and the Bostock people allowed to depart with all their growing charges.

SERVICES AT STATE FARM. Rev. George Wiley Preaches to Convicts and Mr. Jacobi Sings.

At the penitentiary in this city religious services by the leading Christian men of all denominations are conducted every Sunday. Not only is there preaching, but a well-conducted Sunday school is maintained. For eighteen months the superintendent of the society, Mr. George H. Wiley, has gone regularly to preach to these men.

This has not been true at the State Farm, where all of the seriously sick convicts are sent and where there are never less than 60 prisoners, until the organization of the "Visiting Nurses" Association in this city. For some time past the services have been arranged by the penitentiary and the State Farm are a unit in the religious work of the city.

A large delegation of Elks from Richmond, Va., will leave here for Newport News, Va., to-day, to attend the thirty-day session of the Virginia association of Elks, held at Newport News.

Little or no business will be transacted. It is an association of "good fellows," and the meetings are held annually to have a jollification. The program will include happy games, a contest of wits, and a visit to the Jamestown Exposition.

Each lodge in the State is entitled to ten delegates, but a large number of the lodges are expected to attend. The convention will close Friday night.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE. Young White Woman Takes Laudanum.

About 10 o'clock last night the city ambulance, in charge of Dr. Jones, was called to No. 925 Richmond Street. A young white woman, living at that number, was found to have taken laudanum, evidently in an attempt at suicide. No bottle was found, but from the symptom Dr. Jones thinks she must have taken a considerable quantity.

The woman was taken to the hospital and was considered out of danger late last night, but she declined to give any reason for the attempted suicide, but seemed greatly relieved when the treatment began to take effect, and the doctor assured her that she would recover.

ROUTINE BUSINESS. Sons of Veterans Appoint Reunion Committee.

R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, Sons of Confederate Veterans, held a meeting last night, but disposed of nothing of striking public interest.

Twelve new members were elected and some committees were appointed. One committee was named to purchase a new flag for the camp, and another to select badges for the members to be used during the reunion.

The campaign adjourned to meet on May 27th.

Car Runs Over Man. Early this morning an unknown colored man, who was employed as a laborer in the Fulton yard, was taken to the hospital with his left leg badly mangled, a freight car having run over the member. Because of the weakened and hysterical condition of the injured man it was impossible for the doctor to make an examination, and it is not yet known how seriously he was injured.

ASKS RECEIVER FOR CORPORATION. W. B. DePoy Claims That Richmond Citizens Are Stockholders of Company.

A suit was instituted in the Law and Equity Court yesterday by Mrs. W. P. DePoy vs. H. D. Elcheberger, C. E. Wingo, W. M. Wingo, George W. Hutchinson and T. S. Wheelwright. The purpose of the suit is to ask for a receiver for the Richmond Gasoline Engine Company, of which the defendants are alleged to be stockholders.

W. B. DePoy, whose wife is suing, is alleged to have patented a gasoline engine, the reputed stock company being formed to manufacture and sell it. The plaintiff alleges that the defendants agreed to contribute $10,000 as capital stock, and that he was to contribute his patent and models, representing $5,000 of value and to receive that sum in stock. It is further alleged, that the supposed stock company was to pay a certain debt of DePoy's, amounting to over $1,000 as part of the agreement.

Are Indignant. Colonel C. E. Wingo is indignant at the allegations in the suit and denies in toto the principal statements contained herein. He declares that no such corporation as the Richmond Gasoline Engine Company was ever formed, and, therefore, there can be no occasion for a receiver.

"I have never subscribed to a share of stock in the Richmond Gasoline Engine Company, or in any other company," said Colonel Wingo, last night, discussing the matter further, he stated that DePoy claimed to have a patent, but that it developed that he had nothing but a model, for which a patent had never been secured, and which was not an improvement on other engines.

Some time ago, or, to be definite, about four months ago, Mr. Wingo and Mr. Elcheberger, who had been negotiating with Mr. DePoy relative to negotiations in connection with the proposed patent, agreed, it is claimed, to pay DePoy $10,000 in full settlement of all claims against them for any cause whatever, and in pursuance of his statement Mr. Wingo exhibited a quit claim receipt for that sum, purporting to be signed by DePoy. A copy of the receipt follows:

Received of C. E. Wingo the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars in full settlement of all claims for wages, costs, and damages set up and alleged against the Richmond Gasoline Engine Company, in a certain suit now pending in the Law and Equity Court of the city of Richmond, which suit I will direct my attorney to have dismissed at my cost.

(Signed) "W. P. DEPOY." (Witness) "L. H. LANE." "January 18, 1907."

The institution of the suit naturally came as a surprise to Colonel Wingo, but it may be stated that neither he nor his associates has any fear that the suit can be maintained.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL NOT YET CONSULATED

Library Controversy in Status Quo, Though Young Ladies Are Incensed.

Though it is a fact that the young ladies composing the State Library class appear to be incensed at Librarian John P. Kennedy because the money for cataloging a private library for Dr. George Ben Johnston has been held up and not paid over to them, there are no new developments in the case.

It has been stated that attorneys have been employed to institute proceedings in the courts, but this is a mistake. Neither is it true that the matter has been brought to the attention of the legal department of the State, Attorney-General Anderson has not been officially approached on the subject, and Assistant Attorney-General Henry C. Smith, said last night that the matter had not been brought up to his department in any official way.

The matter is in statu quo at present, and unless the ladies take some decided stand in the meanwhile, it will go over until the next meeting of the Library Board, when Mr. Kennedy will bring it to the attention of that body with a view to ascertaining to whom the money belongs.

PRESBYTERIANS MEET THIS WEEK

Sessions of General Assembly. Will Begin on Thursday in Birmingham.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, South, will meet on Thursday evening of this week in the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, Ala. Delegates from all parts of the South will be present, those from Virginia leaving over the Southern Railway to-night by special car. The party will be joined in the Carolinas by other delegates.

Among those who will go from this vicinity will be Rev. Russell Cecil, D. D., Rev. J. P. Smith, D. D., Rev. A. L. Phillips, D. D., Dr. J. E. Warriner, of Chestnut Hill, and Dr. J. P. Banks, of Petersburg.

This session of the General Assembly will be of unusual interest, as final action is expected on the much-discussed "Articles of Agreement" between all the Presbyterian bodies of this country. Nearly all the Virginia Presbyterians have instructed their delegates to oppose the adoption of the "articles"; but it is thought that the assembly as a body will be somewhat in their favor. The question has been before the Presbyterian church for the past two years. East Hanover Presbytery, which embraces all the Richmond Presbyterians churches, took action opposing the "articles" and deprecating any further agitation in the matter.

prised of the accident, and arrived at the hospital soon after young Eanes had been brought there. Mr. Eanes could not account for the rash deed of his son, but attributed it to some lovers' quarrel. He said that his son was engaged to Miss Irbly, and the impression is that Miss Irbly had for some reason broken the engagement.

Mother Prostrated. Mrs. Eanes, mother of the young man, was prostrated by the news that he had attempted to commit suicide. Other troubles add to the domestic unhappiness for a young child of Mr. Eanes is very ill in the Virginia Hospital with lockjaw. Some time ago he stepped on a piece of glass, and tetanus soon after set in. Another brother was with the child when the news of Walter Eanes' attempt at murder and suicide came to his ears. The family is now in a state of great distress.

Walter Eanes is about twenty years old, and Miss Irbly is of nearly the same age. Eanes had been paying her attention for a year or more, and the affair seems to have been progressing favorably until late Wednesday night, when the shooting, which came so near resulting fatally to the two young people.
